“FOOTLIGHTS on; house lights off; curtain,” and the three-act comedy drama, “The Rise of the Class of Thirty-five” began.

Act I opened on the timid, hesitating group of sophomores who had just entered Ames High. Gaining in wisdom and courage, they plodded on, not neglecting to take advantage of the educational and recreational opportunities offered them.

The leading characters in Act II were Jack Chase, portraying the roll of President of the Junior Class, George O’Neil, Vice-President, and Dorothy Reynolds, Secretary-Treasurer. The players in this act were under the direction of Miss Hadish and Miss Selby. One scene pictured a large number of boys and girls participating in athletics. Other scenes represented future Thespians joining Dramatic Club, future orators, declamatory and debate, while music lovers were affiliating with vocal and instrumental groups. One of the highlights of the act was the presentation of the class play, “The Youngest.” The final and most colorful scene was the Junior-Senior Frolic at which the juniors gave a last farewell to their upper classmen.

The climax was reached in Act III. The high position of seniors was finally attained. Kenneth Hedrick assisted by Louise Pfautz, wielded the gavel while Marion Gardner acted as Recorder, and Theda Van Patter was in charge of the financial affairs. Miss Selby and Miss Wood sponsored this peppy group of seniors. All were intensely interested and prominent in Ames High’s many extra-curricular activities.

And now the class turns eagerly toward the future, but looks back, proud to call Ames High its “alma mater.” On this final blaze of glory the curtain falls on the class of ’35.

CLASS OF 1936 ●

PRESIDENT	FRANK SNYDER
VICE PRESIDENT	WILLARD MADDEN
SECRETARY	ROBERT SCHREIBER
TREASURER	MAURINE PARK
SPONSORS	MISS EVA WHITE MISS MADALENE CANVIN

AS sophomores, the present junior class swung quickly into the routine of high school work and even delved into some of the activities with the class members doing good work in athletics, dramatics, and music.

This year we have put more energy into the various activities with members doing outstanding work on the gridiron, the basketball floor, stage, in band and orchestra, class room, and the various other fields of activity that are too numerous to mention.

The class of '36, during the early part of the year, elected Frank Snyder as president; Willard Madden as vice-president; Robert Schreiber as secretary, and Maurine Park as treasurer. With this group of juniors such problems as selecting the class ring, making a success of the junior class play, and the Junior-Senior Frolic were solved.

The class, under the direction of Mrs. Gaunt, presented a fast-moving comedy, the "Lucky Break," at the Field House. This play brought into the limelight the talents of all the junior class.

For the students who didn't participate in athletics, intramural sports were the main attraction. The girls played inter-class volleyball and basketball. The boys tangled in ping pong and basketball.

We mustn't forget the activities that claimed the entire class. Everybody joined Hi-Y or Girl Reserve and worked and played, and received help and inspiration for future years by the programs presented.

With the guidance of Miss White and Miss Canvin, their sponsors, the class members claim that this has been one of the best school years they have ever had.

BR - R - R. It was 8:20 Monday morning on September 12, when the passing bell rang, spelling out the doom of over one hundred and seventy green sophomores. Immediately a flock of seemingly hopeless greenhorns thundered out into the halls, along with almost four hundred thoroughly tried and seasoned veterans, the juniors and seniors; and the frantic search for their first class rooms began. Finally they all found themselves in the class for which they were registered.

Some went out for athletics and, while helping to keep the dear old orange and black flying high, won recognition in that field.

The band, orchestra, and vocal music organizations claimed others. Some joined the Dramatic Club or went out for declamatory or debate work and accomplished some excellent pieces of work, several being elected to the National Thespians and Forensic League.

A very large percentage of the sophomores joined the Hi-Y and Girl Reserves and helped to keep up the moral and citizenship standards which had been set by those who had gone before them.

Six of the sophomore girls who had plenty of pep were elected to the Pep Club and along with the juniors and seniors in the organization helped to keep up the spirit of the school.

Many of them also made good records in their school work as well as in activities, and it is certain that the class of '37 is not lacking in scholastic abilities.

It would not be possible in this small space to mention all the records and honors which this class has collected thus far. However, anyone can easily see that it is fully prepared to step into the shoes of the juniors and seniors and take up their good work, and to continue all of the high ideals of Ames High School as they have been for many years previous.

ONE of the new activities sponsored by the Student Council through its Citizenship Committee was the compiling of data for an Ames High handbook. This, in future years, will be given to students upon registration, and it is hoped by its supervisors, Miss Mackin and Miss Wilcox, and the Student Council that it will prove helpful to future Ames High students.

As customary, the Council sponsored a matinee dance each six weeks. Nearly all of the credit for their success and that of the Holiday Hop, a Christmas dance, goes to Gwen Griffith and her Social Committee.

Other projects carried forward by the Council were the operation of the Lost and Found Department and of an anti-tardy campaign, the publishing of an honor roll once every six weeks, and the providing of assembly programs.

DURING the second semester the Council continued the work of the committees. In addition to these activities the Council sent a few of its members to the Student Council Conference at Fort Dodge and to the Leadership Conference at Iowa State College. A feasible plan for an activity ticket in the high school is being discussed. This ticket would probably include all existing activities and activity assemblies. New sidewalks will be put in during the summer for the benefit of students getting on and off school busses. The Council's main function is that of service to the high school, and the Council has endeavored to fulfill this function to its fullest extent.

THE Senior Senate is a representative group of senior students. It is composed of the officers of the senior class, the presidents of the senior homerooms, one additional representative from the homeroom, and two faculty sponsors. Its purpose is to solve the problems of the class in a more systematic manner, at the same time giving the senior student an opportunity to express his individual opinion.

Meetings are held frequently, presided over by the president of the senior class. Class matters are discussed and plans for the various activities laid. These plans are carried out to the best of the Senate's ability and the problems given careful and democratic attention. The '35 Senior Senate defied tradition by abolishing a class motto, flower, song, and color. Graduation terminated for it a highly successful year.

THE initiation of new members, which was held at the Lutheran Church, opened the program for the year. A clever operetta written by Helen Crane was presented at a following meeting.

Several new projects were added to the customary activities of the club. These included an exchange with other clubs in Europe and the United States, firesides with the Hi-Y club, Christmas caroling, and a tea given in honor of the club advisers. The club also succeeded in acquiring and furnishing a larger room which is used for a lounge and committee meetings.

The Ames Girl Reserves were the hostesses at the annual Area Conference which was held at Iowa State College on February 9. The theme of the conference was "What high school students can do about world understanding."

A Thanksgiving project of providing food and clothing for the needy, a party for the small children, a get-together for new students at Lynn Fuhrer Lodge, a box social, and the Friendship Conference were the cooperative enterprises of the Girl Reserves and the Hi-Y this year.

AS its name suggests, the Hi-Y represents the Y. M. C. A. for the high school. It is open to all boys in Ames High, and the Ames club has the distinction of being the largest one in the state.

Meeting twice a month on alternate Fridays, the club offers a widely varied program. A new feature of the Hi-Y program which has been added during this school year is the meeting of seven different hobby groups once a month. The club is divided quite evenly into seven groups and each boy has the opportunity either to continue his hobby or to cultivate a new one. The other meeting of the month is a general meeting of the whole club which is usually held in the auditorium.

The Hi-Y cabinet, directing body of the club, arranges many interesting fire-sides and meetings throughout the year. Other features of the Hi-Y are the annual State Older Boys' Conference, basketball tournaments, and in conjunction with the Girl Reserves, Friendship Week, which is held annually for three days during February.

TO be chosen a member of the National Honor Society is to have earned one of Ames High's highest honors. In addition to being in the upper one-fourth of his class scholastically, one must be outstanding in character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Selections for membership are made twice a year. Fifteen per cent of each class is allowed membership, five per cent at the end of the junior year, and five per cent at the close of each semester of the senior year.

The social life of the society is carried on through monthly pot-luck suppers. Business meetings are also held once a month.

The group works on one or several projects which it chooses.

Debate Club finances were low, so souvenir programs of the Ames-Boone game were published, and sold by the members.

At the beginning of the season the Debate Club sponsored the annual Ames Non-Decision Tournament. Ames debaters attended a similar tournament held at Newton.

During the regular season Ames participated in the Brindley Memorial Tournament, the Northeast District Tournament, the Drake Tournament, and the State League Finals.

Ames was declared winner of the district meet at Cedar Falls, and by virtue of their win Durham and Vilbrandt participated in the State League Finals held at Iowa City.

THE waves of noise diminish to mere ripples, and then to a silent hush of expectancy. The curtain, drawing back with a majestic swish, reveals an appropriate setting—and the show goes on.

The smaller group in Dramatic Club this year has made possible more informal meetings; and in view of the varied capabilities of the members, more extensive and interesting programs of one-act plays and short skits, speakers and the study of stage technique have been carried out, in addition to the two three-act plays presented.

The frenzied last minutes, powder dust thick in the air, rouge on askew, and hurried glances at cues, all is a part of the fascinating work of play-acting, characterizations, and pantomimes.

The intensity of our experiences in Dramatic Club this year, will linger to remind us often of our most talented coach and confidante, Mrs. Ferne Gaunt.

ON November 23 and 24, the Ames High Dramatic Club presented "The Cradle Song," a two-act comedy, in the high school auditorium.

"Cradle Song" is the story of a girl, Teresa, who was left at the door of a convent. Sister Joanna of the Cross knows how to care for babies and she mothers the child.

Teresa grows to young womanhood in the convent, and then falls in love with Antonio, and promises to marry him. The time of parting comes. Teresa goes away and the nuns, each saddened, file out to their prayers. Sister Joanna of the Cross is left kneeling by Teresa's chair.

The Sisters of Mercy, St. Cecilia's School, assisted the director, and loaned many properties, which made the production very realistic, and one of the most unusual ever presented at Ames High.

ON November 9, the Junior Class presented the three-act comedy, "A Lucky Break" by Zelda Sears. The story concerns the events pertaining to the visit of a wealthy New York business man, John Bruce, in his home town in Connecticut. In a bet he pretends to be "dead broke" to find out the character of his home town acquaintances. They all turn out to be sincere friends, and after many amusing experiences, Bruce wins the girl of his heart.

THE WEB •

THE first semester journalism class, under the direction of Miss Grace Curtis, published six issues of the Web. Since a different staff was appointed for each issue, members rotated through various positions such as news editor, sports editor, assistant advertising manager, proof readers, copy reader, make-up editor, or exchange editor. However, three permanent positions were assigned at the beginning of the semester:

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF	BETTY SWANSON
ADVERTISING MANAGER	CHARLES DURHAM
BUSINESS MANAGER	JOYCE DAVIS

Besides their assigned jobs each person had to write several stories for every issue of the Web. An enthusiastic few sold advertising. One of the most interesting phases of this course was working at the Milepost office on Saturday mornings, seeing how the newspaper is actually printed.

THE Ames High Art Club met in the Central Junior High building, under the helpful supervision of Mr. Lorenz. During the first semester, the first year students, from which the honorary officers were chosen, met on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and the advanced group met on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

During the first semester, members spent a few weeks on the principles of design and then concentrated on subjects of particular interest to individual members of the class. This included poster work, sketching, charcoal drawing, and designing of greeting cards. The second semester was handled somewhat differently, with each day set aside for one group. Under the new arrangement it was possible to visit points of interest in the city for the purpose of studying interior design.

The students aimed to promote the culture of the school along artistic trends, and to generally interest the students in artistic work. That they were successful is shown by the marvelous increase in the Art Club enrollment each semester.

Sacred music predominates in the repertoire of the Chorus. To know and appreciate good music, and to experience the thrill of singing well are the aims of the group.

THE object of Girls' Glee Club is to develop the individual voice and to study good vocal literature. It concentrates on the fundamentals of voice culture: enunciation, breath control, voice placement, tone quality, and interpretation.

The Glee Club serves as a training class and the organization selects small vocal groups and soloists.

Many class periods are devoted to a discussion of the qualities and characteristics of the ideal girl with the aim of living richer lives.

For the annual Christmas Pageant, the Spring Music Festival, and other musical programs, the Glee Club combines with the other high school musical organizations.

The latter part of the year is spent preparing for the state music contests, and although the hope is to win a high rating, the girls value above all the friendships formed here under the capable leadership of Miss Bower.

THIS year, for the first time in Ames High history, orchestra became an all-school organization, holding rehearsals outside of school time, thus eliminating class conflicts and making possible a bigger and better instrumentation.

Several new instruments, the bassoon, oboe, viola, and cello, were added to improve the general tone quality and balance. In conjunction with the band, a concert was presented in the public schools' field house at the end of the first semester, in which the Orchestra made a creditable showing; and for the first time in recent years the group entered and succeeded in the district music contest held at Ames. One of its members, Irving Merrill, entered the violin solo division after winning in the sub-district contest.

The fine spirit of cooperation shown by the members is sure to make Orchestra increasingly successful in the years ahead.

Three soloists from the Band entered the sub-district music contest at Nevada; John Blumenschein, trombonist; John Vander Linden, baritone player; and Earl Wright, cornetist. The first two mentioned won their respective divisions and competed in the district meet.

There are four groups in the club under the leadership of Mary Lou Cliff, Janet Melhus, Alice Mettlen, and Barbara Nelson. Each group gives a stunt between the halves of the football and basketball games, and they also compete among themselves in various ticket-selling campaigns.

Three members who are not in the picture are Byron Morris, Dell Pierson, and Herman Arrasmith.

Activities of the cheer squad are being expanded, and training is becoming more extensive. With new jackets, renewed vigor, student cooperation, and Miss Hadish's leadership, this peppy group of students has gone a long way towards making successful Ames High's activities.

FIRST TEAM

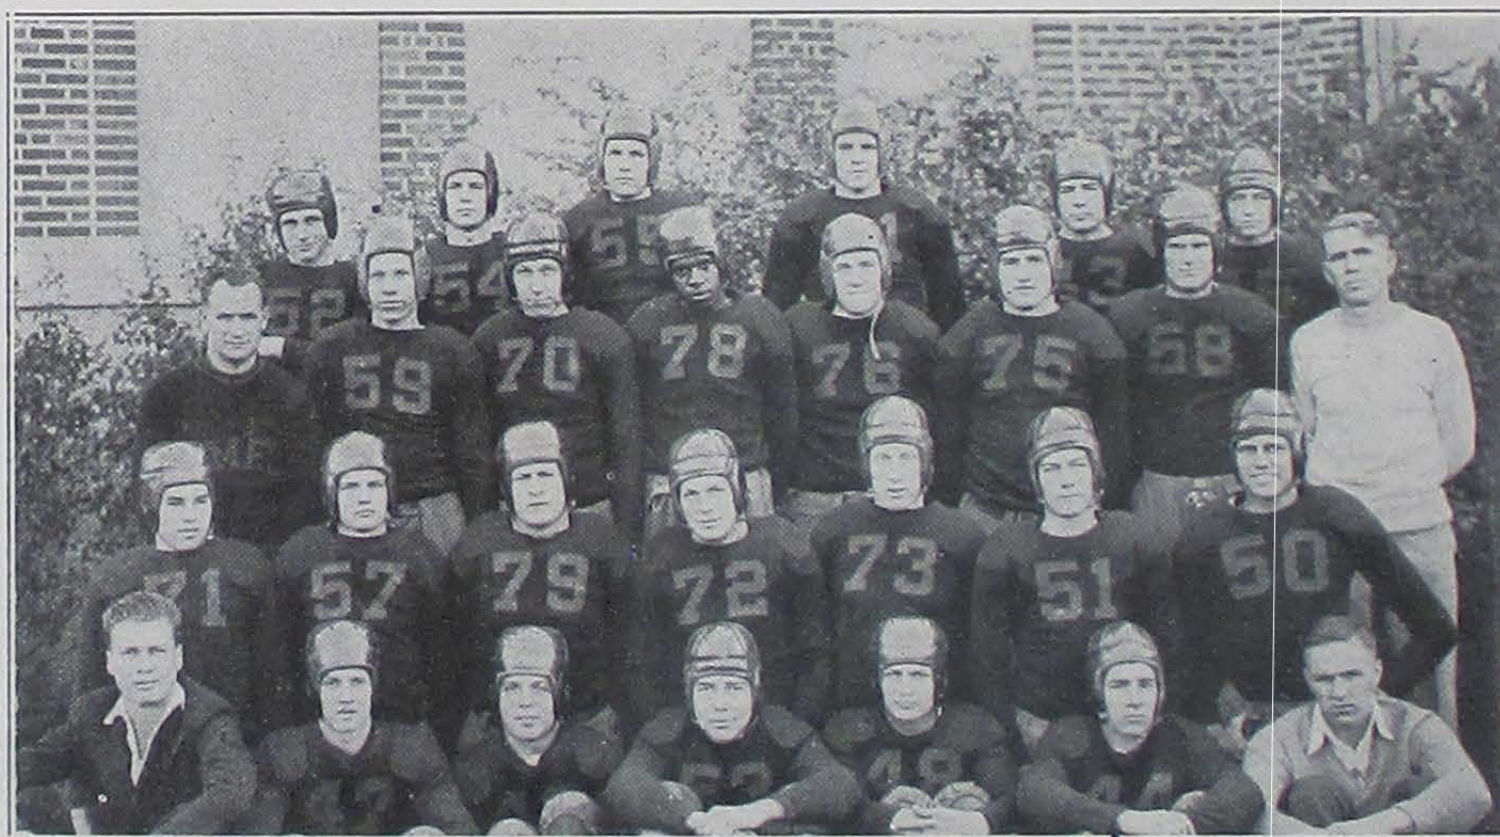

FOOTBALL games played by Ames High's Little Cyclones during the fall of 1934 were extremely successful. At the end of the season Ames had lost no games, and but one scoreless tie interrupted a long succession of victories.

The climax of the season was reached when Ames defeated Boone 7-0, in a thrilling game on State Field. This triumph gave the Ames High team a claim to the state championship.

Allan Gilchrist and Clyde Shugart were elected by the team as co-captains.

Dean Knudson and Robert Cannon served as trainers.

Eighteen boys received major awards, and ten were placed on the conference teams. Five members of the squad rated the all-state team.

Ames 39 Nevada 0

September 14

The season opened for the Little Cyclones with a rushing victory over Nevada. With its superior strength, the Ames team played a great deal of the game in the Nevada backfield. Two touchdowns were direct results of Nevada's punts which were blocked by Shugart and Allan Gilchrist. With the aid of a strong line, Jones ran 60 yards for a touchdown, and Winton repeated the process by scoring as a result of a 50 yard run.

Ames 32 Adel 0

September 28

In spite of a muddy field, the Ames team splashed its way to a decisive victory under the Adel lights. Superior weight gave the Little Cyclones a very marked advantage over their opponents. The whole team co-operated, resulting in some good runs, lively pass receiving, and successful placekicks.

AMES 0 Roosevelt 0

October 6

Although the Ames eleven and Roosevelt High played a scoreless tie, the Little Cyclones gained 235 yards throughout the game, as contrasted to a total gain of 19 yards by the Roughriders. Near the end of the game, both teams resorted to pass attacks, but their attempts were futile.

Ames 19 Washington High, Cedar Rapids 13

October 13

The traditional Homecoming victory was no disappointment to the large crowd assembled at the local field. Maurice Cox received the first kickoff and immediately ran 95 yards for a touchdown. Another spectacular feature of the game was Dick Dearing's kicking. Several successful line plunges gave Ames the final necessary touchdown.

Ames 7 Oskaloosa 0

October 19

Only the first half of this game was played, owing to the failure of the lights at the Oskaloosa field. A heavy downpour of rain made it a difficult game, although several plays clicked. A basketball-dump pass was received by Arrasmith, who scored the only touchdown of the game.

Ames 20 Jefferson 0

October 26

Junior Owens grabbed the ball at the opening kickoff and ran it back for a touchdown. Arrasmith, Owens, and Cox drove down the field for a second touchdown in the first quarter, and Cox went over the line for an extra point. Again in the third quarter Owens succeeded in making a touchdown, and Cox added the extra score by a plunge over the line.

Ames 6 Marshalltown 0

November 2

The well-balanced, fighting Marshalltown squad caused the Ames boys to garner only one score in this game. Three plays from Marshalltown's forty-two yard line by Owens, Cox, and Allan Gilchrist, and a short pass from Cox to Allan Gilchrist were good for the single touchdown.

Ames 7 Boone 0

November 12

State Field and Armistice Day furnished the background for the most thrilling game of the year. Three hard-fought quarters were spent before Ames High was able to make a successful drive.

Arrasmith made 9 yards; Owens made a first down; then a successful pass to Allan Gilchrist made another first down; Owens ran three yards, then flung a pass to Arrasmith. Officials put the ball on the nine-yard line for Ames at this point. At nearly the end of the game, Cox and Owens got the ball over. Cox scored the last point with a plunge—and the game and the season were finished.

THE second team was a group of rather small, but very effective bunch of boys. This team deserves a large amount of credit for the first team's successful season. These boys executed the opponent's plays against the Varsity to give it an idea of the plays.

Second team players do not receive rewards for their efforts; therefore, it is only because they enjoy playing football that they attend practice nearly every night.

This year's team was not very successful according to scores, but Mr. Donels believes the boys gained much in experience and sportsmanship.

BASKETBALL •

THE Ames High basketball team seemed to be followed by a jinx this year that caused many of the local aggregation's encounters to be lost by close margins.

In spite of the rather dismal looking wins and loss columns due to four one-point defeats, the local five lost only one more game during the season than they won.

If all the games that were lost by one basket had been converted into victories, the locals would have won eight more games than they would have lost.

Some sort of a record was set in the Ames-Muscatine game in which the combined efforts of both teams netted only five points.

At the end of the season, Bob Craig, Norman Dunlap, and Jim Arrasmith were elected tri-captains.

Bob Menze, Bob Craig, and William Bliss ranked among the first fifteen high scorers in the conference.

Bob Menze, Bob Craig, and William Bliss ranked among the first fifteen Junior Owens, William Bliss, and Jim Arrasmith as guards on the Iowa Daily Press all-conference team.

INTRAMURAL ●

THE intramural program of 1934-35 has proven very successful. One reason for the success of such a program was because of the excellent cooperation of the homeroom students, teachers, and intramural directors. It was estimated that about 65 per cent of the boys of Ames High participated in the sports.

This year the intramural managers, directed by the faculty supervisor, Mr. L. V. Loy, offered a large variety of contests and tournaments. Some of these contests were badminton and horseshoe in the fall, along with the punting and dropkicking contest, basketball and table tennis in the winter season, and baseball in the spring.

Last fall in the badminton tournament, Don Beresford of 101 defeated Bobby Jones to take the championship. George Snyder brought 105 to victory in the horseshoe tournament by defeating John Hamilton. La Verne Elding won the punting contest by averaging 43 yards. Bob Foster was second with 42 yards, and Ray Hewitt third with 41 yards. In the dropkicking contest the two Koontz boys kicked their way to victory by each one kicking the ball from the 30-yard line between the goal posts.

The basketball schedule was run off by all the homerooms playing a double round robin. The Aud. won the National League tournament by winning 12 games and losing 2, but they placed third in the finals. In the American League room 101 won the championship by winning 12 games and losing 1. Also 101 took the finals by defeating room 105. But 101 was badly beaten by the faculty team.

Also during the basketball season a record was kept of the boys who made the most number of points during the entire season. Dick Young won this by making 121 points.

In the National League ping pong room 207 tied Aud. for first place by each winning 15 games and losing 7 and 682 per cent rating. Room 102-A won the American League tournament by winning 20 games and losing 2 with a rating of 909 per cent.

Baseball started April 6 by Ray Donels choosing teams. Well, boys, you have something to look forward to next year.

ATHLETIC MANAGERS •

ATHLETIC managers of Ames High School are divided into two groups.

The first group handles the checking in and out of uniforms for the athletes and of equipment used for interscholastic sports. The second group handles the tickets for the football and basketball games. These groups of boys have some of the hardest and most thankless tasks in the extra curriculum.

Intramural sports have become so well liked in Ames High that Mr. Loy, intramural director, has appointed three students to assist him in carrying on the program. These boys keep records of the round robins in badminton, horse-shoe, basketball, ping pong, and baseball. These boys, in addition, serve as scorekeepers and timekeepers at intramural basketball games, scorekeepers at baseball games, and they take care of the equipment used in these games.

TENNIS ●

WITH Robert Bliss and Charles Durham, two lettermen from last year, forming the nucleus the Ames High tennis team concluded a very successful season for 1934. The team was composed of one senior—Robert Bliss, two juniors—Charles Durham and Paul Moser, and three sophomores—William Bliss, Robert Menze, and Lawrence Owens. These six boys received major awards. Donald Beresford and Richard Young received minor awards. Durham and William Bliss won the district doubles title at the meet held on the Lincoln High courts, Des Moines.

Robert Bliss was unanimously elected captain. Lawrence V. Loy coached the boys.

GOLF ●

IN April, 1934, Ames High school started its first interscholastic golf team. Not much interest was shown in golf by the school body and there were only eight boys out for the team. Practice was carried on at Homewood Golf Course, and the home matches were played at the Golf and Country Club.

The first match was played at Boone during a stiff wind and a cold, drizzling rain. Boone came out ahead. A return match was played here which was again won by Boone.

The third match took place at Woodside Golf Course in Des Moines, the home team being the state champions, Roosevelt High. Roosevelt High won out by a score of $23\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$. Roosevelt and Fort Dodge then came to Ames and all three participated in a triangular meet. The winner was Roosevelt. They beat both Ames and Fort Dodge. Ames came in second by beating Fort Dodge and losing to Roosevelt.

The next match took place at Fort Dodge and this time Fort Dodge was triumphant over Ames.

The next and last match was the State High School Golf Tournament. Ames entered a four man team in this event, made up of Jim Ash, Junior Vifquain, Bob Duckworth, and Bob Schreiber. Roosevelt won this tournament.

The boys who participated in practice and matches throughout the year were Jim Ash, Junior Vifquain, Bob Duckworth, Bob Schreiber, Wendell Allan, Frank Snyder, Dell Pierson, and Jack Stouder.

The requisites for winning a letter in golf are: participate in every meet, shoot an average score of 83 during the matches, place first or second in the State High School Golf Meet for individual play, or play on the winning team in the State Meet.

The winners of major A's were Jim Ash, Junior Vifquain, Bob Duckworth, and Bob Schreiber.

HIKES, tournaments, parties! These are a few of the many activities carried on by the G. A. A. for the enjoyment and benefit of all the girls in high school. Each year G. A. A. sponsors inter-class tournaments in volleyball, basketball and baseball, in addition to several parties and hikes.

G. A. A. is a most democratic organization. Any girl who likes sports and goes out for them becomes a member if she wishes, with almost no effort on her part due to the point system which decides eligibility. One hundred points automatically makes a girl a member, and points are given for various activities—being on a team, perfect attendance, tumbling, keeping a health chart, outside activities, refereeing games, and many other things girls like to do. Five hundred of these points entitle a girl to a minor A, while one thousand points give her a major A.

The Council, elected by a popular vote, is the governing body of G. A. A. and plans and supervises the activities of the year. It also chooses the class teams.

SOPHOMORES vs. SENIORS	27 - 46
JUNIORS vs. SENIORS	35 - 33

THE first of the interclass tournaments held by the Girls' Athletic Association was of volleyball. Practice began early and by November 5, 6, 7, when the games were played, all teams had been excellently trained. The battle between sophomores and juniors was hard fought; the juniors however led the way.

The seniors defeated the sophomores in a well played game.

In the junior-senior game a fight raged; the seniors were in the lead until the last three minutes of the game when the juniors took a spurt ahead and defeated the seniors by two points. Congratulations, Juniors!

SOPHOMORES vs. SENIORS	18 - 27
JUNIORS vs. SENIORS	17 - 24

THE one sport on the girls' program which creates the most enthusiasm and interest among the girls is basketball. A large number came out for basketball giving a choice for fine teams. In the junior-sophomore game the battle raged with the "green" sophomores defeating the ambitious juniors by one point.

In the sophomore-senior game, the seniors held a lead throughout the game, winning by nine points.

The "war" between the juniors and seniors was rough with many fouls and injuries, but with the seniors coming out victorious.

The games were well played and the excellent sportsmanship of all teams showed the fine material in Ames High School students.

Second Team Basketball

DUE to the large number of girls out for class basketball a second team was chosen. The games were very well played and proved of great interest to the girls. The sophomore-junior game was a battle for the lead with the juniors winning by one point. In the sophomore-senior game the seniors led the way. In the junior-senior game the seniors were again victorious but only by one point.

Physical Education Classes

A variety of games were played in the girls' physical education classes this year. Tetherball, ping pong, shuffleboard, tumbling, rhythmic movement occupied the winter months. Class and inter-class baseball was taken up in the spring. The course in rhythmic movement, new this year, was studied for ease of movement, development of poise, and control of muscles.

to the large number of girls out for class basketball a second team was chosen. The games were very well played and proved of great interest to the girls. The sophomore-junior game was a battle for the lead with the sophomores winning by one point. In the sophomore-senior game the seniors were again victorious but only by a narrow margin.

HOMECOMING began Friday evening, October 12, with a huge pep meeting at the high school and bonfire at the Field House.

A large, enthusiastic crowd attended the football game on Saturday between Ames High School and Washington High, Cedar Rapids. The close of the contest found Ames in the lead 19 to 13.

At the annual Homecoming banquet closing the celebration, the students and faculty were hosts to the high school alumni, the Washington High team, and their coach. The banquet was held in the First Methodist Church. Speeches, humor, and music comprised the after-dinner program. Then the students and alumni left once more a successful Homecoming, already a pleasant memory.

STATE PRESS CONVENTION •

ON October 26 and 27, the Iowa High School Press Association held its annual convention on the Iowa State College campus.

Students from the journalism department of Ames High School assisted on committees in helping to arrange for the convention.

Many instructive round table discussions on subjects of interest to high school publication staffs were held.

The social functions included luncheons at the Memorial Union Friday and Saturday, and the banquet and dance in the Great Hall Friday night.

Six contests were conducted to determine the most outstanding journalist in each phase. Marian Davis, member of the Web staff and chairman of the Convention publicity committee, received first place in the newswriting contest. Marguerite Root, member of the Web and Spirit staffs, placed second in the advertising writing contest.

THE second annual all-school evening dance was held at the field house, December 15. Colored paper jack-in-the-boxes, soldiers on parade, elephants, and rocking horses, pasted to brown paper wainscoting encircled the floor and gave the title for the dance a real meaning.

At one end of the floor, tables for ping pong and miniature ten-pins added to the fun.

When the time for intermission arrived, the committee presented an interesting and varied program including a piano duet, a tap dance, a doll dance, a tumbling act, a tin soldier march, and some close harmony.

Confetti-filled air, necks covered with streamers, and feet wading in untold numbers of multi-colored paper ribbons made the holiday party a gala affair.

The lowering of a huge cluster of balloons into the center of the dance floor gave opportunity for still more noise amid final adieus climaxing Toyland on Parade.

AREA G. R. CONFERENCE •

ON February 9, the Girl Reserve Conference was held at Iowa State College with eighty Ames girls attending. Tolbert MacRae started the conference out right by leading songs. The theme of the conference was "What high school girls can do about world understanding." Reverend Jack Finegan of the Ames Church of Christ, who has traveled extensively, was a very appropriate speaker on the theme topic. After his address, the girls divided into small groups which had members of various foreign groups as speakers. At noon, luncheon was served in Great Hall at the Memorial Union. The Indianola group gave the program which consisted of a violin solo and a humorous reading. At the termination of the business meeting and luncheon, the secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Iowa State College led a tour through the dormitories and the Home Economics building. The Y. W. C. A. ended the conference with a lovely tea.

THE annual Girl Reserve and Hi-Y Friendship Conference opened this year on Tuesday, February 19. Dr. Royal J. Montgomery, minister of the Congregational church of Grinnell, Iowa, addressed the student body at four assemblies and held a forum for each of the three classes. The theme of the conference was "Seeking the More Abundant Life." Dr. Montgomery spoke to the parents of the student body on Wednesday evening. His subject was "Our Parents and Their Children."

A tea was given for the Girl Reserves' mothers on Thursday afternoon. That evening a party was held by the Hi-Y boys for their fathers in the Christian church.

The conference closed Sunday, February 24, with an impressive vesper service addressed by Dr. Walter Barlow, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Ames.

DISTRICT MUSIC CONTEST •

THE music organizations of Ames High always look forward with joy and excitement to contest-time. It's hard work and it sometimes means getting up with the sun. But it's worth it! The thrill that comes with work well done can not be described.

This year the high school was represented in almost every event. Orchestra, band, mixed chorus, girls' and boys' glee clubs, girls' sextet, madrigal club, trombone solo, baritone-euphonium solo, violin solo, and soprano solo. This district contest was held on the Iowa State College campus, April 4 and 5. Those groups which won a superior rating at that time and were eligible to compete at the state contest in Iowa City, May 2, 3, and 4, were:

Orchestra
Mixed chorus
Girls' and boys' glee clubs
Madrigal club

PERSEVERANCE CONQUERS ALL

Genius, that Power that dazzles mortal eyes,
It oft but perseverance in disguise;
Continuous effort of itself implies,
In spite of countless falls, the power to rise,
Twixt failure and success the point's so fine
Men sometimes know not when they touch this line.
Just when the pearl was waiting one more plunge,
How many a struggler has thrown up the sponge!
As the tide goes clear out, it comes clear in;
In business, it is at turns, the wisest win.
And oh how true when shades of doubt dismay,
'Tis often darkest just before the day.
A little more persistence, courage, vim,
Success will draw o'er fortune's cloudy rim,
Then take this honey for the bitterest cup—
There is no failure save in giving up.
No real fall as long as one still tries,
For seeming setbacks make the strong men wise.
There's no defeat, in truth, save from within;
Unless you're beaten there, you're bound to win.

—Author Unknown.

HIGH SCHOOL ROMANCE

He met her at her locker,
He helped her get her books,
They passed each other in the hall
With tender, longing looks.

She sat in the assembly,
He sat by her side,
He passed her on her way to town
And asked if she would ride.

He took her to a party
And then to a dance;
He often walked with her to school,
But always just by chance.

Then he had her picture,
His class pin she wore,
As a token that their friendship
Should last forever more.

But this little romance ended
As they're apt to do.
She took a date with someone else,
He said that he was through.

EPITAPH

Beneath this stately maple tree,

Now lies Miss Eva White,

She made a perfect left hand turn—

But signaled to the right.

"How far were you from the right answer?"

"About five seats."

Maggie Maitland (in Home Ec class, consulting cook book): Oh, my, that cake is burning, and I can't take it out for five minutes yet.

What's the national air of Italy?

Garlic.

George O'Neil: What would you call a man who hid behind a woman's skirt?

Don Briggs: A magician.

Maxine: All clever men are conceited.

Hilary: Oh, I don't know, I'm not.

Norm: Darling, I've made up my mind to stay home.

Jane: Too late, Norm, I've made up my face to go out.

Farmer: What are you doing in my apple tree?

Jean Z.: One of your apples fell off,
and I'm trying to put it back.

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free;
A girl who looks at boys all day
And doesn't lead the fool astray.
A dame who may in summer wear
A coat that makes the seals despair;
Whose mind will countless thoughts contain
Who builds her castles all in Spain.
Girls are dated by fools like me
Three guesses, what's next?

Irvin Anderson: What is the date, please?

Miss Curtis: Never mind the date, the examination is more important.

Irvin: Well, I wanted to have something right.

Ray: The bank just returned that check.

Evelyn Donels: Isn't that splendid? What shall we buy this time?

Shugart: I don't like dancing. Why it's nothing but hugging set to music.

Barbara Jones: What don't you like about it?

Shugart: The music.

Are you fond of indoor sports?
Yes, if they know when to go home.

Overheard at a matinee dance:
Dancing Partner: Shall we talk or dance?
Girl: I'm out of breath—let's dance.

Prexy: Let me tell you about a dream
I had last night.
By: Never mind, I saw you with her.

Coozee: I don't believe anyone would really rather give than receive, do you?
Jim A.: That shows you never were
